ANALYSIS:

The Purchasing Division and the Information Technology Department coordinated a copier and printer fleet inventory and usage audit with the City's incumbent vendor, Konica Minolta. The audit resulted in identifying end-of-life equipment and a need to consolidate copier/printer equipment leading to cost saving opportunities.

In support of the City's initiative to focus on areas of operational cost savings, the City's copier and printer fleet procurement and asset management approach was reviewed and determined the need for re-assessment. The goal was to demonstrate achievable cost savings through the centralizing of copier/printer procurement processes and citywide copier/printer fleet management.

Historically, each Department was responsible for managing their own copier/printer contract, from the solicitation phase through the deployment phase. The City recognized a need to centralize this process to obtain more competitive pricing and allow effective, citywide, asset management.

Konica Minolta was awarded a multistate NASPO ValuePoint Cooperative Master agreement as a result of a mass solicitation led by the State of Nevada. Konica Minolta was awarded in the categories of Convenience Copiers, Productions Copiers, and Printers. The established Cooperative Master agreement allows for NASPO participating agencies, such as the City of Corona, to continue to leverage the negotiated pricing and service offering.

In addition to the competitively bid, NASPO ValuePoint agreement, the City has issued a Maintenance and General Services Agreement (MGSA) to capture the service levels uniquely required by the City. The City and Konica Minolta will hold Quarterly reviews to monitor copier/printer usage and identify over/under utilization. The reviews will yield the greatest cost savings while maintaining up-to-date equipment to meet departmental needs.

As a result of negotiations, Konica Minolta will pay the remaining portion of the Canon lease agreement ending December 2018.

Library

This refresh will be made possible in part to Konica Minolta paying for the remaining lease payments of the current Canon units.

The units will aid the Public Library in promoting self-sufficiency with their printer/copier needs. This setup will require less hardware and less staff time in assisting patrons with the equipment. Patrons will be able to use a mobile print feature that they have never had access to before. The new equipment that will also streamline administrative process by increasing the paper tray capacity on the copiers. Additionally, paper will be used more efficiently with the new badge swipe printing process which prints only once a badge is swiped.

The introduction of an upgraded patron card payment system will the option of charging the appropriate fee for different functions and paper sizes, including the scanning feature.

The tables below show the Library's current and proposed units and associated pre-tax expenses.
